The two unreleased songs featured here star bassist Terry Lewis, "Funkytown" vocalist Cynthia Johnson, drummer Garry "Jellybean" Johnson, and guitarist Tony Johnson (no relation). Before becoming Flyte Tyme, they were known as Wars of Armageddon.

94 East has become a Minneapolis Sound buzzword owing to the fact that Brooklyn transplant and bandleader Pepe Willie hired a 16-year-old Prince Rogers Nelson to add lead guitar to a bundle of his originals at Minneapolis's Cookhouse Studios in the winter of 1975. Known colloquially as "The Cookhouse 5," session highlight "If You See Me" makes its vinyl debut here and will also be featured on the forthcoming compilation Purple Snow: Forecasting The Minneapolis Sound. The b-side, "Games," is a 45 exclusive.
