SO STRESSED THE UNLAWFUL TRADE OF GRECO-ROMAN ART LP/CD

- Hometown: Sacramento, CA
- Touring throughout the US during March and April
- The first release from Honor Press, a label founded by Meredith Graves of Perfect Pussy
- Packaging includes lyric sheet insert and full color inner sleeve
- Radio campaign via AAM

So Stressed initially began in Sacramento, CA as a largely improvisational noise project that included the band's three members (Morgan Fox, Andrew Garcia and Kenneth Draper). Over time, the lineup was refined and their sound coalesced into what's heard on 'Unlawful Trade,' a technically meticulous but anxiety ridden and sometimes terrifying cry which calls to mind everything from Q and Not U to No Trend and the Minutemen. At times, Fox's lyrics bring to mind the emotional distress and social reservation seen in Wire and Wall of Voodoo.

RELEASE DATE: MAY 26, 2015
GENRE: POST-HARDCORE/NOISE

The fact that their sound is so violent and tense as to be physically disarming is almost deceptive; the members of So Stressed are kind, conscientious and smart young men. Writing this album took more than two years (and recording took more than six months) due to a common habit of throwing away fully-formed songs deemed to be even slightly less than perfect. All this was done with no goal in mind - if no one wanted to release it, Fox says, "we were just going to delete it." Honor Press could not be more pleased to offer this as our first release.
