

C.R.A.S.H. WAR ON ALL FRONTS

Let it be known that the recipe for a hard-knocking, non-fronting hardcore ep is as easy as pie. Add 50 years worth of pedigree via Brooks Headley's time in UOA, Born Against, (Young) Pioneers, and Wrangler Brutes, Dean Spunt's efforts in Wives and No Age, Cundo Bermudez's sentences in Nazti Skinz and Wrangler Brutes, and finally Michelle Suarez's terms in Mika Miko and Le Face, bake for 5 hours in L.A.'s MacArthur Park during 100 degree weather, and quickly press "record" on the tape machine. Instant success. C.R.A.S.H.!

By eschewing formulaic vocal harping, layered guitars, and hackneyed drumbeats, C.R.A.S.H.'s "A War On All Fronts" 5 song ep creates a new vernacular in the church of hardcore. No senseless 80's nihilism. No whiny 90's PC rehash. And none of the web-propelled hokum of the last decade that nearly buried the subculture entirely. This is a band apart. A band comprised of veterans who decidedly created a record FOR veterans. And they give, here, everything they've got. No Jokes. No Time. No Love. No Money. No Fronts.
