RELEASE BIO

Klaus Johann Grobe continue to confound listeners who dare to pigeonhole them as a "psych" band with their newest single for Chicago-based Trouble In Mind Records, "Baby lass uns Sein" b/w "Ich Bien nicht der Grund".

The group, originally formed as the duo of Sevi Landolt (organ/voc) and Daniel Bachman (drums/voc) have now expanded to a trio with live bassist Stephan Brunner expanding their low-end. Their dizzying mix of krautrock, psychedelia, dance, electronic music, experimental music & even whispers of Tropicalia have beguiled those keeping score since 2012.

"Baby Lass uns Sein" is a mainstay of the group's live repertoire, a tender ballad that - depending on the band's vibe opens or closes their set with it's mellow metronomic pulse, lilting organ chords & tinkling Moog sparkles. The flip side "Ich Bien nicht der grund" is classic a KJG dance-floor-filler; it's stark beat & thumping bass grounding stratospear-arching organ drones and chorded keyboard musings. Landolt guides his Moog Prohphet thru an array of effects, oscillating it toward new, and decidedly weirder places.

The 7-inch single of "Baby Lass Uns Sein" is pressed on black vinyl, comes housed in the Trouble In Mind company sleeve & includes a download code.
