BIO

Well, we didn't expect this! After a three-year hiatus following what was thought to be their swan song – the sprawling double-album, Growing – San Diego's Sleeping People return with this hypnotic fever-dream of a 12". Following the departure of guitarist Amber Coffman (who left to pursue her other group, The Dirty Projectors, full-time), Sleeping People's core group – guitarist Kasey Boekholt, bassist Kenseth Thibideau, and drummer Brandon Relf – reunited with original guitarist, the nimble-fingered Joileah Thalmann.

The Sleeping People trademarks are all here: angular, dissonant riffs, mind-bending counterpoint guitar interplay, and grooving, stop/start dynamics. The major evolution here is the hefty amount of patience and primal repetition; each song unfolds over many minutes, revealing something new with repeated listens. In other words, it sounds like what you would expect from a band that draws equal inspiration from Yes, Steve Reich, and Tool.

This LP is strictly limited to 1,000 copies, and comes with a free MP3 download coupon.
