release bio

Duncan Kissinger is a 25-year-old, Indianapolis, IN native that captures moments in time and turns them into songs. Crafting his music with the simplest of instrumentation, Duncan gives his songs room to breathe, to think, without ever indulgently dragging out his arrangements. His new album, Make Time Stop, is a collection of nuanced moments from Duncan's life, replayed and reflected upon in verse.

With this record, Duncan attempts to hold himself accountable for the first time. It's a record about love and how hard it is to know about love. These songs are moments, urges, impulses, reflections on what's happening as it's happening. Make Time Stop is meant to empower others to place more value on individual moments and embrace emotion and intuition as the truest thing we have.
